

Rocky Mountain Grow

One day, a Brawe called Hjmigumf found a seed on the ground and he planted it. Every day Hjmigumf watered it. after several weeks, it grew into a small rocky mountain. On the weekend when it snowed, it grew into a giant rocky mountain. At the start, the seed had come from an alien in space and it fell on the ground. The world hadn't been good enough because there were no tools. But once the rocky mountain grew, the Brawe people were able to create many useful tools to help them survive. From then on, the Brawe's worshipped the aliens that had given them that 1 seed. They called the aliens Takee.